Smallest class of Rebels graduates

By WENDY HANSCOM

In front of a gymnasium packed to capacity with friends and family, 53 seniors turned their tassels Friday evening, signifying their graduation from Telstar Regional High School.

It was the smallest graduating class in Telstar's 26-year history.

The Class of 1994 Valedictorian Joshua Fogg urged the graduates to cherish their future.

"Don't waste one day of life," Fogg said. "Don't doubt your ability to deal with anything in life. There's something good in everything."

Fogg told the graduates to stay active and in touch.

"Take good care of yourself," he said. "Don't grow old before you're old. Life should not be seen from the bleachers. Remember who you are and where you came from. Take each day for what it's worth and remember you can learn something from everything."

Salutatorian Jennifer Bowie told her classmates to strive for any and all of their dreams.

"The dream does not have to be an impossible wish, but something you want to accomplish," Bowie said. "Society sometimes laughs at those who are obsessed by their dreams, but when they meet their dreams, people worship them. Listen to the wishes your heart is making and make your dreams come true."

Third honors student Cheryln Myers asked the graduates to make learning a lifetime goal.

"It's easy to have qualms about our futures," Myers said. "There are reports that ours could be the first generation to do worse than our parents. The main thing for us is to never stop learning. Keep up with technology. We can see these challenges as the great opportunities they are and not the roadblocks that some would have us believe they are."

SAD44 Board of Directors Chairman Margaret Hand offered the board's congratulations.

She told the graduates that they should be thankful to their parents, teachers and SAD44 taxpayers for their education.

Superintendent of Schools Ronald Jenkins told the class to spread their wings, but to remember to fly back to their roots.

Telstar Principal Theodore Davis announced that the class had been awarded more than $150,000 in scholarships.

The graduates continued the school tradition of slipping the principal something when they shook his hand after accepting their diplomas. The 53 students each passed Davis a playing card.

Andover

Mil rate could nearly double

By WENDY HANSCOM

Andover's mil rate is likely to nearly double for 1994, because of a change in the state tax law that until recently went unnoticed.

Andover has yet to commit its taxes, but selectman Kathy Williamson said Monday the mil rate will probably jump from the current rate of 12 mils to at least 22 mils for 1994.

The jump comes because the town will be losing about $13 million worth of MCI Telecommunications Corporation personal property and equipment excise tax.

Town selectmen recently learned that the taxes should have been going to the state, not the town -- and will go to the state in 1994.

A $13 million town devaluation will also probably net SAD44 slightly more in state aid next year, but what's not picked up from the state must be made up by other SAD44 towns.

Selectmen explained the mix-up in a letter released last week.

"When COMSAT was the owners and operator of MCI," the selectmen explained, "it was determined by the State Board of Taxation that since COMSAT was not a telephone company as defined by state laws, its taxes would go to the town and not the state."

"Later, the statute was changed and broadened, so that telecommunications businesses were required to pay an excise tax to the state on their personal property and equipment, which then became exempt from local taxation."

"When MCI purchased COMSAT's Telstar facility," the selectmen's statement stated, "it continued to pay taxes to the town of Andover on its real and personal property as COMSAT had done,

Bethel Town Meeting

Voters to resolve boards' plow-truck deadlock

By MICHAEL DANIELS

To dump the old plow truck, or not to dump the old plow truck -- that is the most loaded question before Bethel voters at the annual Town Meeting tonight.

Voters will decide whether the municipal portion of their town budget (excluding school and county taxes) will go up by the 10 percent recommended by the selectmen or the smaller figure of 4.6 percent recommended by the town's Budget Committee.

Last year, faced with a similar choice between the recommendations of the two boards, the 100 or so voters who showed up opted overwhelmingly to go along with the lower, Budget Committee spending suggestions.

This year, the two boards are once again in substantial agreement on the overwhelming majority of spending articles on the warrant.

The single significant area of difference lies in the question of whether the town should replace its 1980 GMC dump/plow truck, at an estimated cost (including equipment) of $62,000.

The selectmen are recommending that the truck be replaced, as is called for in the town's Capital Improvement Plan.

The Budget Committee would prefer to repair the truck and try to get another year out of it, at an estimated cost of $10,000.

The amount of money involved in the truck question is relatively small when compared to the overall areas of agreement between the two boards, but the issue has been a major source of bad feelings between some members of the two boards.

In an attempt to resolve the issue before Town Meeting, Town Man-

Truck available for public inspection

The truck that the Bethel selectmen have recommended replacing will be available for inspection from 5 to 7 p.m. this evening.

Town mechanic Rodney Whitney said he will be at the garage (on his own time) for the two hours prior to Town Meeting in order to answer any questions voters may have about the truck or its maintenance schedule.

School decision stymies Upton Jenkins withdraws SAD44 transportation bid

By WENDY HANSCOM

SAD44's budget meeting was tame in comparison to Upton's school budget meeting last week.

It was standing-room only Thursday evening as 52 Upton voters packed the town's small school house meeting room to discuss how to educate the town's nine students.

Three months ago, at Town Meeting time, residents passed over approving a school budget.

The School Committee needed more time to come up with a plan to transport the town's children to SAD44, committee members said.

The town is in its third and final year of a contract with SAD44 to educate its students.

Thursday evening, the School Committee presented a plan that would nearly triple the town's school budget and probably at least double property tax bills, town officials said.

Last year the town appropriated about $28,000 toward the education of five students. This year, the School Committee asked for $76,043.

The $76,043 includes tuition for 11 students next year. The money would cover the nine students the town knows it's sending, enough money to cover an overdraft in tuition for a student who moved into town after the current school year started, and $4,500 extra in case another student moves to town. The balance is for transportation.

The town had no kindergarten students for the 1993-94 school year. No midday run was needed and transportation costs were kept down.

For 1993-94, the town's six students were transported to the Newry Town Office in a private vehicle. But this fall, the town will send three students to kindergarten, for a total of nine students, which requires a midday run and a vehicle larger than the usual private vehicle.

The School Committee put its transportation needs out to bid. The bid specs offered a one-year contract and required that the bidder purchase a 15-passenger van to haul the students. The only bid came in at $34,200.

SAD44 Superintendent Ronald

Jenkins, who also serves as Upton's state agent, said because the bid had come in high, and no one replied the second time it was put out to bid, he was willing to offer SAD44's buses at a cost of $27,000.

Taking him up on the offer would save taxpayers $7,200, he said. The town could also cut $4,500 by eliminating the money set aside in case another student moved to town, he said, for a total savings of $11,700.

The town turned down that proposal by a vote of 33 to 11.

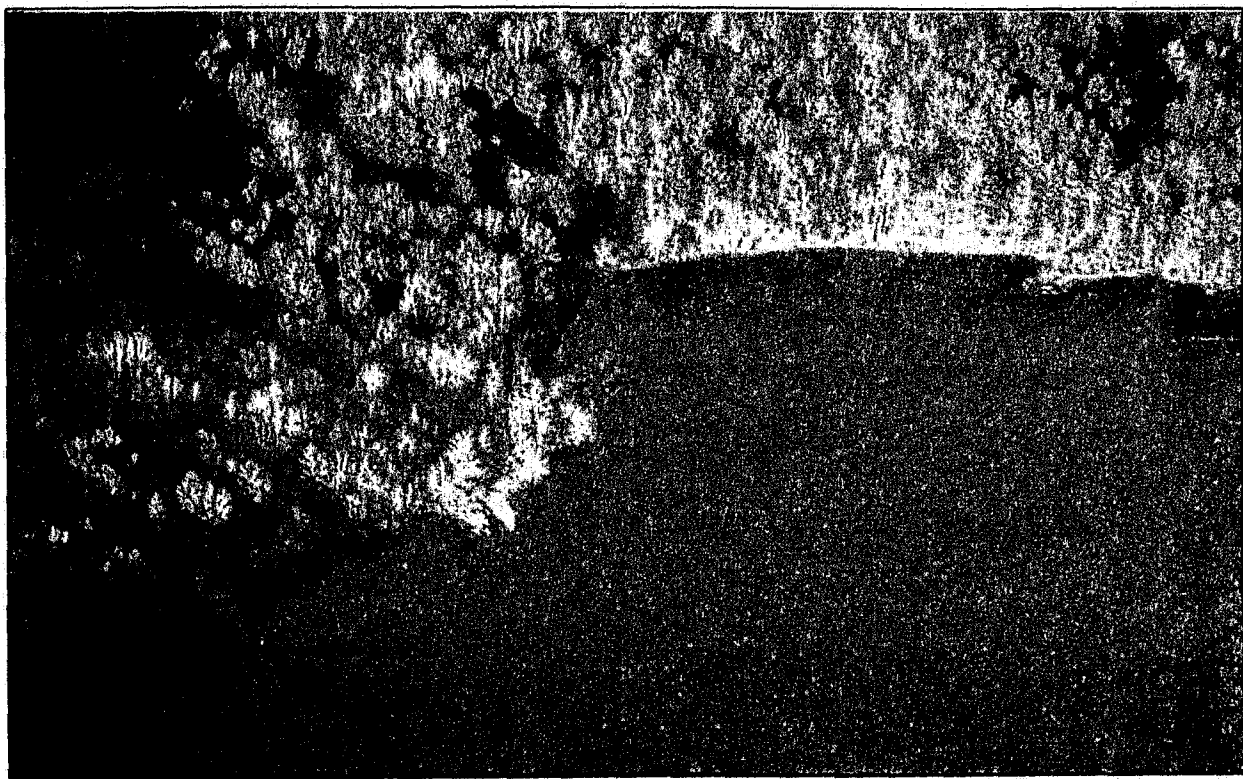

Following the vote, Jenkins was questioned repeatedly on the $27,000 figure.

He responded, also repeatedly, that the proposed figure was less

INDIAN POND DELTA—In what the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District calls "an extreme case of erosion," a 12- to 15-foot-long delta of sediment (center) has formed in Indian Pond in Greenwood, at the foot of Indian Pond Road, which connects the pond with Rowe Hill Road. Town officials say the damage is the responsibility of a private fish and game club, which established a fishing access point at the site. "Nobody's really maintaining it now -- that's the problem," said OCSWCD district manager Jim Chandler. Erosion was responsible for 90 percent of the phosphorus damage to China Lake, according to a former state official who has worked to bring the lake back to health. Erosion will be the main topic of discussion at the annual meeting of the Community Lakes Association of Woodstock and Greenwood, to be held Saturday, July 23 from 9 to 11 a.m., at the Maine Conservation School in Bryant Pond. The public is encouraged to attend the lakes association meeting, which will include a discussion of the recently completed Lake Christopher Watershed Survey. Chandler will also be presenting the survey results to a joint meeting on the Woodstock Planning Board and Board of Selectmen on June 21, at 6:30 p.m. in the Woodstock Town Office. Baseball playoffs

Telstar goes down swinging

By WENDY HANSCOM

They came in with a full head of steam, but went out swinging at air, and at curve balls in the dirt.

The 1994 Telstar baseball team wrapped up a strong season Thursday, losing 0-2 to tenth-ranked Carrabec in the Western Maine Class C playoff quarterfinal.

The number-two ranked Rebels went into the playoffs coming off a seven game winning streak. But Cobra pitcher Adam Hinkley threw what was probably the best game of his career, and the Rebels came up with only three hits and no runs.

"He had a curve ball in the dirt," Telstar coach Robert Remington said, "and it was a bad one. Carrabec probably played their best game of the year, and I know the pitcher pitched the best game of his life."

Rebel pitcher Sean Gilson zeroed in Carrabec batters early in the game. Gilson walked the first batter he faced, but went on to strike out three to end the first inning, leaving one Cobra runner stranded.

The Rebel defense turned a double play to retire the side in the second, and it was three up, three down for the Cobras in the third.

But in the fourth, Carrabec ended the scoreless stretch, when their catcher went to first on a single, second on a passed ball, third on a sacrifice and home on single.

Cobra bats were quiet for the next two innings. Gilson struck out two in the fifth, and retired the side with two more strikeouts in the sixth. But Carrabec added an insurance run in the seventh.

Telstar threatened twice in the game, but failed to score, stranding five runners.

In the first inning, Tim Remington got on base on an infield chop. He went to second on Clint Myers' sacrifice bunt and to third on a long fly by Gilson. But cleanup batter Adam Newell went down swinging, and Chris Howe popped out to left for the third out.

Telstar batters went down one, two, three in the second and third, but reached again in the fourth.

Newell went to first on an error and to second on a wild pitch. Howe walked to put two men on, and with one out Cory Koch loaded the bases on an error. But the Rebel threat ended when Ken-Mason struck out. Josh Adams bounced the ball back to the pitcher and Newell was thrown out at home before he got anywhere near the plate.

Telstar only reached base once more in the final three innings. The

SHOW UP AT TOWN MEETING

To the Editor:

I would like to urge all eligible voters of Bethel to attend town meeting this evening.

As you know the school budget this year will increase our tax rate by 9.48 percent -- this amount coupled with an increase in our municipal budget will place quite a burden on all businesses and households.

The budget committee and selectmen have tried to keep increases down as much as they could.

There is one major difference between the selectmen and the budget committee and that is the purchase of another new truck. The budget committee has recommended no purchase (the old truck can be fixed). Every little bit that can be saved should be saved.

Perhaps later on, if we have an increase in our tax base we can afford to spend more. But the budget committee did not think that the time was now.

RESPECT OTHERS' OPINIONS

To the Editor:

By the time this week's Citizen is published, the election will be over and the person winning will know who he/she is. My congratulations to the person elected, whether it be Harry Faulkner, Larry Smith, Rick Whitney or myself.

This letter is in response to the letter from John Head in last week's Citizen -- to comments like, "Equally silly," "whatever happened to the goose and the gander," and "And pray tell me, what is 'limited commercial zoning'?"

Take a look at subdivisions in the Town of Bethel and you will see zoning in a disguised form called "covenants."

I find it saddening that Mr. Head doesn't feel that all of us have a "deep abiding love" for this community. Having been born and raised here like Mr. Head, I am offended that he believes his chosen candidate is the only one who appears to have this concern for Bethel. I feel if the candidates didn't care about this community they wouldn't be interested in its well being by running for selectmen or continuing to live here.

Am I a being a little sensitive? Yes. Why? Because I am a person of compassion and I put everything into what I do and am deeply committed to what I put my mind into doing. I am not one that has the time to sit around and belittle or ridicule what other's opinions might be.

It's easy to give directions when your not the driver.

The night of the forum was for the candidates' opinions. Each person had their own opinion and I feel those opinions should be respected, whether John liked them or not. I feel that all the candidates respected each others opinions. I am a firm believer that each voter has to make up their own mind, and that there is no room for ridiculing a person's opinion. If you don't agree with that person's opinion, fine, but let people make up their own minds without stooping to innuendos.

In closing I will say that we all have the freedom of speech and the right to vote our own conscience. It is wonderful.

ABSTINENCE IS THE SOLUTION

To the Editor:

As I read the article concerning the "Condom Comics" (Citizen, June 1), I noted a statement that appeared on page 2 that was attributed to Mr. Savage. I was struck by how easily falsehoods and glib cliches are accepted as truth.

Mr. Savage is quoted in the article as having said, "You're still going to have people teaching solely abstinence, but abstinence isn't working."

Come now. Abstinence not only works, it is the only thing that does work! Abstinence has never caused a single case of HIV/Aids or a single pregnancy. On the other hand, condom failure accounts for many of the HIV/Aids or teen pregnancies that we see today.

I believe that one of the reasons that kids are sexually active without their parents' knowledge is because our educational organizations have evolved into societies lacking in moral integrity. As long as our public schools teach that sex is an acceptable part of relationships outside of marriage, we will continue to see the spread of teen pregnancies and HIV/Aids cases.

Those of us who teach abstinence will not accept the blame for the teen pregnancies or HIV/Aids cases so prevalent among teens today. These problems came about because we were ignored and the policies of the very organizations that supplied Mr. Savage with his research material were implemented instead. They are to blame.

YES, BRING BACK THE MUSIC

To the Editor:

The letter in last week's paper from Jennifer Felt has prompted me to express my similar concern at the lack of any music program in the Telstar High School and Junior High.

I was a very involved member of the music programs offered by the school from 1970 until I graduated in 1978. During that time period the marching and concert band had as many as 60 members. We had a very active stage band and placed very well in several competitions. We conducted exchange concerts with other schools as well. We also had a very active booster club. For several years after I left I know that the band continued to do well and won prizes, etc. It was a good learning experience for all of us.

It was with great sadness and dismay that I watched a band from another high school, not unlike our own in size, be hired to do our local Memorial Day parades! Shame on us as a community for allowing the school to cut the program. The school budget is a phenomenal $7,000,000 -- where has the money gone that used to go to the music program?

Bethel Meeting

ager Madeleine Henley invited the two committees to the town garage Monday evening, where Road Foreman Bob Pilgrim and Mechanic Rod Whitney described the condition of the old plow, a 1980 GMC, and reviewed the maintenance records on the truck.

Pilgrim described the truck as unsafe -- and illegal -- to operate because of fumes and noise problems. He also contended that the town would get better use out of its other plowing equipment if the old plow was replaced.

The Budget Committee members present (five members did not attend) seemed open to the road crew's arguments, although they took no formal action following the meeting.

"I don't think it was ever explained to us that the other equipment would be better utilized," said Becky Kendall.

The selectmen are standing by their recommendation for a new truck. Tonight voters will decide the issue.

Voters will also decide whether to spend the additional $500 that the selectmen recommend (but the budget committee declined) for plantings in traffic islands, window boxes and on the common.

If voters go along with the Budget Committee's recommendations, the municipal budget for the coming year will be $1,225,688, or $54,145 higher than this year's figure.

If they agree with the selectmen's recommendations, the budget will be $1,286,188 or $114,645 higher than the current budget.

Only minor Ordinance changes

There are a half dozen ordinance changes on this year's Town Meeting warrant, but all are relatively minor updates of wording changes.

A change to the sign ordinance would eliminate the need for variances when dealing with multiple businesses at a single site.

The Planning Board and Board of Appeals ordinances are being changed to clarify the appointment and succession of members.

The Site Plan Ordinance is being revised to eliminate references to outdated regulations.

And proposed changes to the shoreland zoning ordinance would make it possible for disabled individuals to apply for variances based on their disability.

Town officials anticipate little or no opposition to the ordinance revisions. At a recent public hearing on the changes, only two people showed up, and they were there to question a proposed revision that was ultimately tabled (see box).

Bethel's 1994 annual Town Meeting will be held at 7 p.m. tonight (June 15) in the Helen Berry Auditorium at Telstar.

Building permit revisions tabled

The Bethel Board of Selectmen will not be presenting Town Meeting voters with a major elaboration of the town's Building Permit Ordinance -- at least not at this year's meeting.

Bethel Code Enforcement Officer Norman Putnam had drafted a revision of the current ordinance -- which was adopted by the town 40 years ago.

The revision expanded the length of the ordinance from three-quarters of a page to four (single-spaced) pages.

It also set out new fees for building and subsurface waste disposal permits, and raised the fees for violations.

At a recent hearing on proposed ordinance changes, selectman Bob Chadbourne called the revisions "a great idea," but he said Putnam's version was premature and in need of both more work and greater input from people who would be affected by the revisions.

Don Feeney -- who with his wife, Ruth, made up the entire audience for the hearing -- agreed. "The intent is good, but the wording is very regimented," he said. "I see more and more hurdles to people doing their ordinary, everyday business."

The selectmen agreed to table the draft and to find a way to include more people in the revision process.

Upton stymied

than what the state allowed for, based on town-provided mileage figures and the cheapest the district could afford.

"It makes no difference to me if we do it or not," Jenkins said. "SAD44 won't make or lose any money on it. The state doesn't allow us to make money on it. I'm not negotiating the $27,000."

At one point during the meeting, clearly annoyed at being badgered about the figure, Jenkins said he was withdrawing the district's offer. He said Monday he might reconsider his position, but would prefer that the town find alternate transportation plans.

Upton voters argued that several other options were available. They included:

-- breaking part of the town's contract with SAD44 and sending kindergarten to nearby Errol, N.H.

-- sending the kindergarteners, or possibly all elementary students, to Andover Elementary School, which is closer than Crescent Park School. (But Jenkins said that as SAD44 superintendent he would not allow it because the road is too dangerous in the winter.)

-- buying a town-owned 12- or 15-passenger van.

-- writing the private bid specs for a longer contract period with a smaller van.

-- putting kindergarten students into first-grade, or day care in Bethel, for the afternoon.

After two hours of mild bickering over the options, voters decided to send the issue back to the School Committee.

The committee was charged with more thoroughly investigating the expense of a town-owned 12-passenger van, and of hiring a driver for it.

According to state law, Jenkins said, the town is supposed to approve a school budget by July 1.

The next School Committee meeting is June 15 at 3:30 p.m.

Another Town Meeting will need to be held in order to approve the budget.

side struck out in the fifth and went down in order in the sixth.

In the seventh, with the bottom of their batting order up, the Rebels' hopes for a rally died. Koch made the first out with an infield grounder. Mason got to first on a walk, but Adam Luxton struck out, followed by Peter Misserochi grounding out in the infield.

The Rebel defense turned in an outstanding performance, committing no errors, turning two textbook double plays and trapping a Cobra in a rundown between first and second.

"It's one of those things where you could go back over the game and cite places where if something a little different had happened it would have been a different game," coach Remington said, "but this is baseball, and we couldn't catch a break."

Senior Gilson's performance was one of the high points of the losing effort. He struck out nine and allowed just two walks and eight hits.

This is the second year in a row Telstar has been eliminated from the playoffs in their first outing. But the team is young, with just three seniors, Gilson, Howe and Bill Chase, and should be back again next year with a lot of experience behind them.

"We got a lot of players coming back," Remington said, "and it will be a good season next year."

Andover rate

apparently unaware of the change in the law. Although MCI disagrees with the town about the valuation of its property for tax purposes, it never suggested that tax payments on the equipment should go to the State of Maine and not the town. Since the town has become aware of the change in the tax law, it will be limited to assessing MCI's land and buildings for tax purposes. Its personal property will be hereafter taxed only by the state.

Selectman Williamson called the news disastrous.

The town has already passed its 1994 municipal budget and approved the county tax assessment.

SAD44 will also assess the town about $535,000 for the district's FY '95, which is up about $90,000 from last year.

The town collected approximately $156,000 in assessment from the $13 million in MCI personal property. Without that money, the rest of Andover's taxpayers will have to chip in enough to cover the town's bills.

"From the figures I'm working with," Williamson said, "It looks like about a 10 mil increase. That's a lot of money. It's devastating."

Williamson said the town is planning to call the state to see if there is any money available to help offset the loss. For example, she said, money that could be used to help pay SAD44.

Selectmen are also waiting to hear if the state will seek to recover from MCI or the town back property and excise tax paid in error to the town.

MCI is also currently appealing to the State Board of Property Tax Review its town assessments for 1988 through 1991. Selectmen are scheduled to meet with the tax review board today (Wednesday) to discuss the appeals.

Because the town can no longer collect on the MCI's personal property, its state evaluation will go down in 1995, Williamson said.

Volunteers are being recruited to serve as guides in the museum. Anyone wishing to volunteer for an educational experience where one meets people from all over the world should call the society office at 207-824-2908 or Judy Haskell at 207-824-2724. A Mason Family Gathering will be held on Saturday, July 2, beginning at 10 p.m. at the Dr. Moses Mason House. The Community Picnic will be held on July 4 beginning around noon, with Margaret Joy Tibbetts giving the Fourth of July address, followed by a concert by the Portland Brass Quintet, made possible in part by a grant from the Maine Arts Commission and the Mahoosuc Arts Council.

Sudbury Canada Days 1994 will feature an encampment on the ground of the Dr. Moses Mason House by the 4th Regiment, Maine Volunteer Infantry; featured during their three-day stay will be a number of living history demonstration reflecting life during the Civil War period. The third annual Hall Memorial Lecture will be given by Jere Daniell of Dartmouth College. His topic will be, "Town Founding in New England: The Special Case of Sudbury Canada."

East Stoneham

June 23 and 24 in Waterville.

Bethany and Peter Rogers have a new baby girl born Sunday, the 29th, at the Bridgton hospital. Her name is Alysa Ann and she joins sisters Heather and Amanda. Kathy and Craig Adams are the proud grandparents.

Lawrence and Mildred Dadmun from Damariscotta called on Albert and Eleanor Nelson one day last week.

The East Stoneham cemeteries look real nice with the flags flying and pretty plants and flowers, and the sexton keeps it looking nice as usual, keeping the grass mowed when needed, with his helpers.

Ellery and Charles Lawrence have been helping the sexton with the mowing of the cemetery.

We delivered wood to Locke Mills, and on the way back stopped at Cisco & Poncho's Restaurant at Snow Falls (formerly Katie's Kitchen) on Wednesday, June 8. We found the food just as good as usual, but there is much smaller space. From there, we stopped and had a nice visit with Jean Mackenzie at South Paris. She likes her new home and is now gaining in health.

Royce Grant from Oxford and Shirley Grant from Auburn visited Frances Grant one day last week.

Father's Day! Sunday, the 19th. Did you ever stop to think what the word Father means? Well, I will tell you. The word Father comes from the Anglo Saxon, "Faeder," as feeder or one who feeds, provides food. Or "Feather" covering, clothing or protection. Interesting, isn't it? The word Father also means "Peter" or "Patris" or "Pope." There is a lot more to the name but it will do for now.

Ras and Karlene Bachelder will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on June 15. They were married in Kingfield. They have five children and many grand- and great-grandchildren. Cheers to them! It takes a lot of patience and love to last that long. We wish them the best.

Louise Tetley and yours truly were at the Rumford Community House Health Center one day last week. The Hanscoms' niece, Vada Glover, was also there. We found them sitting out in the patio enjoying a nice breeze and looking well.

Seven members of the "Newry Bowling Gang" were at The Oxford Lanes, Rumford, one day last week: Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Gil Seeley, Louise Tetley, Bea Lowell, Irene Hadfield, and Olive Anderson, with Rena Powers and Jim Anderson as guests. On the overall scores, Betsy was high on the triples and singles with one string of 108. Of the "Righties," Irene was high on both the triples and singles. Betsy had five spares, Karlene had one spare, Gil had one spare and one strike, Olive had one spare, Bea had one spare and Irene had two strikes and one spare.

Have you ever been to Rhode Island? Well, if you go, check out the "Pepe's Pizza & Restaurant" when you are there. It's in Johnston, 1478 Atwood Avenue, and is not hard to find. They specialize in Italian food, and when enjoying a pizza or spaghetti or shells, you can't help but notice the "mural" on the wall. It was designed, illustrated and painted by our local artist, Brent Bachelder. Brent is now a Providence-based artist who graduated from the Rhode Island School of Design in 1989. He does more than just paint murals; he designs interactive exhibits for children and has some of his art work in galleries and gift shops. While in Rhode Island, you can check out some of his works at the Children's Museum of R.I., also Roger Williams Park Museum of Natural History, the Miriam Hospital, Pawtucket Day Nursery, the Audubon Society's Caratunk Wildlife Refuge, and The Joslin Community Center. Have a good trip!

Correction: Last week's column had the wrong date for deadline to sign up for the annual trip to Storyland.

The trip to Storyland is scheduled for Wednesday, June 22, and the deadline to sign up is Thursday, June 16 by calling Wendy Hanscom at 824-3228. More than two dozen children have already signed up, come and join the fun. We meet at Storyland, June 22 at 9:30 a.m.

Lilacs, apple blossoms and bob-o-links! What could be more beautiful? Last Sunday, June 5, Ann and I walked among them. I call the bob-o-links "Laughter on Wings." They have a kind of lyric flight that gives ultimate meaning to the feathered wings. Over our heads, to the right, to the left they flew. Then for a change, on some tall spear of grass, they would rest to sway in the breeze, bubbling at all times.

The bees were out and humming, on lilacs that were so full of blooms. We walked most to the hilltop, where we could see mountains big, mountains little, a sweep of the pond and the road, where traffic rushed through hardly noticing the beauty around them.

Right now, the time of lilacs and apple blossoms, the time between new leaf and full foliage, I can describe only as "dainty." It's so green and a freshly flowing world, it's as dainty as fine lace and as fragile as dewdrops on a spider web at dawn.

Apple blossoms are no more dainty than a rose, but a whole tree full of them, pink and white trimmed in green near a group of lilacs on fresh bold filigree of purple and against a deep blue sky is certainly magnificently dainty. All these with a hillside of green grass, trees all lacy, from a distance, dancing in air where the sun shines on them makes perfection.

A four-season world blesses us all whether our station is high or low.

We alternately struggle against the elements then we are rewarded with visions like this, that lift the spirit. Every day is different.

What a privilege! Robert came to join the Holt family on Sunday and stayed for the night to drive his mother to Boston, on Monday, to see her eye doctor.

There were many activities in which Milton and Eleanor Inman had to take part last week.

A few from here attended the West Paris Alumni Banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Inman visited his father and mother one evening recently.

Congratulations to the Albany seniors and other members of the Telstar graduating class of 1994!

Norma and David Salway were in Portland on Saturday to attend the thirtieth birthday party honoring their son-in-law Bernie Gatchell. Kaity Gatchell, who had spent Friday night here, returned home with them.

A state highway crew has been working on Route 5 along Songo Pond this week.

Harry Logan of Lovell was a caller here on Sunday morning. On Tuesday, Mrs. Merle Stone of South Paris, Mrs. Eva Barker of Norway and Mrs. Florence Graves of Naples visited here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Tanguay returned home this week after a trip to Florida where they attended a wedding in Spring Hill, visited in St. Petersburg, Madeira Beach and Orlando, and a water park.

Horsepower was much safer when only horses had it.

No. Woodstock

By SHANE BILLINGS

North Woodstock is bustling with activity as the summer months descend upon us. On Monday, the fifth-grade class at the Woodstock School held their annual promotion night. Both Bridget Billings, daughter of Malcolm and Tammy Billings, and Kara Andrews, granddaughter of Frank and Christine Campbell, were among the members of this year's graduating class. Also graduating this week is Jaimee Bolio, a member of Telstar Regional High School's class of 1994. Congratulations, Jaimee!

The spring sports awards were held at Telstar High School last Thursday. Attending were Tammy Billings, Tim and Sue Rosenberg, and Phil and Sonja Davis, whose children all received awards. Jason Billings was recognized for track, Kevin Rosenberg for baseball, and Lori Davis for softball.

The McInnis girls have been busy. Michelle was a member of the middle school OM team which participated in the OM World Competition in Iowa. Michelle enjoyed a trip to Iowa along with her parents, a three-day cruise aboard a schooner and learned a lot about the ocean. She arrived home as I was finishing up my column and said that she had a wonderful time.

That's it from North Woodstock this week.

So. Woodstock

By ANDREA WING

The 50th reunion of the class of 1944 of Woodstock High School was a great success. There were 18 who started in the freshman class, five are deceased, which leaves 13 that could attend, and 11 attended. After the alumni banquet at Telstar High School, the group gathered at Ellsworth and Joyce Hathaway's home here in South Woodstock. Those attending that were in the 1944 class were: Miriam Moore, Dotie Critser, Ellsworth Hathaway (and wife Joyce), Bob Harlow (and wife Alberta), Bob Mills (and wife Betty), Cleo Ryerson (and husband Emory), Arlene MacKillop (and husband Howard), Lola Crockett (and husband Clayton), Louise and Roger Twitchell (they both were in this class), Charlie Howe (and wife Lois). They visited until around 11 p.m. and I heard they had a grand time.

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society, reports that the society invites you to its museum on Saturday afternoons and its meetings on the second Saturday of each month at 7 p.m. The museum always has good exhibits, and the entertainment committee tries to arrange interesting and informative programs. This is the society's 15th year. Your support can make it a success. He also adds that the historical society reveals new truths about old things and helps us to honor our heritage.

Danielle Appleby turned 15 this month, and Brandy Poland became a teenager. Happy Birthday, girls!

My sister Dotie Critser, Tempe,

Ariz., has returned home after visiting for about a week. She spent a few days with Bob and Alberta Harlow and Miriam Verrill in Freeport before returning home to Arizona.

Quote of the week: "I've learned that there are two days every week you don't have to worry about -- yesterday and tomorrow."

Florence Hall attended A.H.S. 29th Alumni Banquet on May 4. Her nephew, Stephen Hall of Georgia, was the speaker.

We are happy to have Gertrude Hutchins home to Apartment 12 after surgery.

Lillian Williams is visiting with family members and to attend a niece's wedding. The bride's father, the Rev. Waite, will do the service.

Norman White went to Togus for back treatment on Wednesday.

Nephew Keith Hall of Frankfort, and Diane Damon of Winterport attended the Alumni Banquet.

A notebook with all the classes from 1929 to 1977 recorded through each year, which Ross Swain put together, was given to Florence Hall, who graduated in 1929. She has missed only three meetings. She is very pleased to have it.

Mary Bailey took Florence to Thompson Hill Farm to visit with Joyce Morgan, then to lunch at McDonald's and shopping in Rumford on Tuesday.

Louie and Judy Hall took Aunt Florence to church on Sunday.

Thought for the day: Do you ever have the feeling that the aim of modern medicine is not to keep you from dying, but to keep you alive long enough to pay for modern medicine?

Howdy, Folks. This has been a cloudy Monday morning, but now it is acting like the sun might make it to shine some, so here goes the news.

Last Monday, we were invited to the home of Rudi and Barbara Honkala on the East Bethel Road. We stopped at East Bethel Cemetery to witness some of their Memorial Services, then on to Rudi and Barbara's. Sister Laura and her granddaughter Mary Cobb were already there. Our cousin Evelyn Tamminen, from Yarmouth, had been visiting Rudi and Barbara and this gave us all a good chance to talk over old times and get reacquainted.

There will be a dance at West Paris Grange on June 18, with the Richard Felt Orchestra furnishing the music. This dance will be hosted by the West Paris Sportsman Club. It's the same good music, and a good cause.

Don't forget the Musical Supper, which will be hosted by Franklin Grange and will be served at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills on July 19, starting at 5:30 p.m. A $5 supper ticket ($2.50 for children under 12) will get you a good supper, a good variety show, and dancing afterwards. This is a one-time bargain, and we hope that you'll take advantage of our offer.

By MARTA CLEMENTS
End-of-the-year activities are keeping all classes busy. "The Pied Piper," put on by children in grades four, five and six, was successful and enjoyed by all. Stories have been exchanged with our partners at the Ledgewick Nursing Home. My class was delighted with the conversation inserted in their cartoons by the housekeeping department. We are now working on finishing a story they started for us. The kindergarten class enjoyed a trip to the Children's Museum in Portland.

Mrs. Loper has sent home her last classroom newsletter of the year. The Bear Paw News has kept first-grade parents informed all year. The first-graders are looking forward to a dramatization of the author Eric Carle, by Gretchen Berg, on the 14th, and receiving a free book on Bookday, June 16.

The second-graders are still working with their sixth-grade buddies, and are having a special celebration together as they wind up the year. A paper airplane project is being enjoyed by both classes.

The third-graders have finished their science projects with simple machines and are now avidly hunting for rocks and minerals.

The fourth-graders enjoyed their trip to the State Capitol and museum in Augusta, despite bus trouble. They've been making maps, reading about the Wright Brothers and learning about hurricanes and clouds.

My fifth-graders graduated from the D.A.R.E. program on June 9. Each student had written an essay about what they had learned during this time, and the class voted on two to be read at the graduation. Aaron Brough and Michael Johnson were elected to share theirs. We are finishing up our science units with "Food Chains" and "Webs" and are having fun with our chameleons. We've been roller skating with our pen pals and have written one last letter to them.

The sixth-grade is working on the annual yearbook. They will be going to the Junior High for the annual Step Up day, and are excited about next year. They have finished up their science unit with a trip to Kettle Cove to learn about the seashore firsthand.

On Saturday, June 4, our annual Community Day was held. Teachers, parents and children met to not only cleaned up, but also spruced up our playground. Flowers were planted, raking accomplished, and lots of rocks moved. Some baseball was played and a cookout was enjoyed by all. Thanks to all who participated.

Our SIT, School Improvement Team, finished up the first tour of duty by meeting for breakfast at Trap Corner. Now is the time for a changing of the guard. Our two parent/community members are moving on to other endeavors. Many thanks to Dixie Inman and Sid Hollowell for their work and commitment. If any parent or community member would like to join us for the 1994-95 school year, please give the school a call at 674-2332.

Our last day of school will be June 22, and will be a full day. The annual softball game between the sixth-graders and the faculty is scheduled for that afternoon. The sixth-graders are planning their strategy to see if they can be the first to unseat the teachers.

Our annual Awards Day will take place on the afternoon of June 21. We will be saying goodbye to our sixth-graders and will be honoring many, many children and their parents. Watch the newsletter for the exact time.

Fourth weekend duck race

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce has announced a Great Bethel Duck Race, to be held on July 2 as part of the chamber's Fourth of July weekend festivities.

The duck race will be a fundraising event for the Bethel Fourth of July Festival and Celebration of the Arts.

On July 2, hundreds of numbered yellow rubber ducks will float down Mill Brook at 4 p.m. The start and finish line will be at the Gould Academy Athletic Field.

DESIGN BY KEN IRONS

The winning duck owners will receive prizes for the first 20 or so ducks, as will the very last duck across the finish line. Prizes include season's passes at Sunday River and Mt. Abram, overnight stay and dinner package for two at the Summit Hotel, golf and dinner package for two at the Bethel Inn and Country Club, Downeast Whitewater raft trip for two, dinner for two at the Madison, a large pizza at Breaux's, a $40 gift certificate at L'Auberge, roast duck dinner for one at the Old Rowley Inn, breakfast for two at the Red Top Truck Stop diner, and a scenic flight for two from Bethel Air Service.

Ducks are available for $5 each and can be purchased after June 21 at the Bethel Chamber of Commerce, the Bethel Town Office, Bethel Savings Bank, Preb's, Key Bank, the Summit Hotel, or the Bethel Inn Pro Shop. Tickets will also be on sale the day of the race at the festival.

BETHEL SENIOR CITIZENS

The Bethel Senior Citizens met June 8 at the Sunbury Inn in Bethel at 11 a.m. with 67 present.

President Helen Saunders conducted the meeting and Lindley Wieden introduced the guests and announced there was a full bus for the Wiscasset trip on June 15.

Helen Saunders reported for the absent treasurer, Sarah Stevens, and for Muriel Faudi of the Sunshine Committee. Polly Davis reported total membership at 140, with 26 members 80 to 89 and seven over 90. Rudy Royer announced the drawing for the fund-raising project, the silver savers, would be in September. He also gave a detailed explanation of Living Wills and offered the blessing.

Merton Brown, Bethel town clerk, explained the new official ballot and the recently purchased voting machine.

The door prize was won by Jeanette Kimball.

Birthdays celebrated were: Clarence Rolfe, Doris Brown, Florence Briggs, John Martin, Faith Brown, Carolyn Brooks, Bertha Flanders, Doris Fraser, Bea Grover, Elizabeth Bailey, Pat Blake, Bud Leavitt, Henry Robertson. III were: Avis Doonen and Evelyn Merrill, and Don Bennett is recovering from eye surgery.

The next meeting will be July 13 at the Madison in Rumford.

Following a delicious fish dinner with ice cream and birthday cake for dessert, Dick Carter talked about logging operations and living in the woods in the '20s and '30s.

GOULD GRAD IN NCAA LACROSSE CHAMPIONSHIP

Gould Academy graduate and Hobart lacrosse defenseman Tom Pena was ranked third on the team for ground balls in 1994, and is one of three Hobart players selected to play in the annual North-South All-Star Game on June 10 at Johns Hopkins University.

The 6-0, 180 lb. long-stick defender had one assist in the NCAA Division III Championships Saturday, which Hobart lost to Salisbury State 15-9.

Pena earned All-State honors in basketball and lacrosse at Gould, but was a virtual unknown at the college level until his junior year, when he earned Second Team All-American honors.

At Gould, he was coached by faculty member Will Graham, who was an All-American and captain at Middlebury College in 1977. Graham said he was surprised and impressed by the news of Pena's successful season and selection to the North-South game.

Hobart finished the season with an 11-3 record. Hobart has won 12 of the last 14 Division III National titles, and will move to Division I in 1995.

Bethel couple hurt in Wilton accident

WILTON--A Bethel couple was injured Friday morning in a three-car accident at the intersection of Route 2 and New Jay Street in Wilton. Ernest Perkins, 76, and his wife, Lillian Perkins, were both transferred to Franklin Memorial Hospital following the 10:30 a.m. accident. Ernest Perkins was released from the hospital Friday, but returned Sunday and remains at Franklin Memorial for observation of a head injury, according to a hospital spokeswoman, who said Perkins wanted people to know that he's "a little lame, but doing much better." Lillian Perkins was transferred to Maine Medical Center over the weekend, where she is listed in serious condition. She fractured several ribs in the accident; the spokeswoman said. Mr. Perkins was headed east on Route 2 and attempting to turn into New Jay Road. He failed to see Michael Day, 23, of Andover, who was headed west on Route 2, according to police. Day's 1985 Mercury sedan hit Perkins' 1994 Ford sedan on the passenger side. The Perkins' vehicle then spun and hit a 1986 Toyota sedan driven by Jane Standen, 61, of Weld, which was parked at the intersection and getting ready to cross Route 2. Standen was uninjured. Mrs. Perkins was trapped inside the vehicle and had to be extricated by the Wilton Fire Department.

Junk cars to benefit Special Olympics

PORTSMOUTH, N.H.--Organizers of the program "Recycle for Gold" are hoping junk car owners will give their battered relics to the Maine Special Olympics. By calling a toll-free number, 1-800-954-0954, a truck will come and tow the caller's junk car away within 10 days. The vehicle will be taken to the nearest participating salvage dealer, according to program officials. Then one of three things will happen to the car. It will be crushed for recycling and Special Olympics will receive $21.25. The usable parts will be sold and the rest of the car crushed and recycled. Or, the car will be sold at auction for as much as possible and Special Olympics will receive half the value. The idea for the program originated in Massachusetts, where the state's Special Olympics program has averaged $5,000 per week. Maine participants are hoping to raise at least $20,000 to kick off Athletes for Outreach in the state, a public program for people with mental retardation.

From the Bethel Police log:

Accident report leads to assault arrest; woman accosted near ski train

On June 2, police responded to a report of a car accident on Route 232. Police determined that the man had not been in an accident but had been assaulted. The victim told police he had been assaulted by George Tuttle III, 27, of Bethel. Police went to Tuttle's home. Tuttle admitted to hitting the man, according to the police report, and said the man had borrowed his car and wrecked it. The report stated that there was blood on Tuttle's floor, and blood and hair on his knuckles. Tuttle was placed under arrest and charged with aggravated assault. Once in the cruiser, the report says, Tuttle became combative and ultimately kicked out a plastic shield in the back seat. He was restrained and transported to Oxford County Jail. On June 8, a Bethel woman reported that while she was walking on Railroad Street a man came out from near the ski train and asked her to have sex with him. When she refused, he made sexual threats, but she was able to leave without a struggle. She told police the man said he was from Oregon and "rode the rails." He was described as a clean cut, well-dressed white male in his 20s. In other recent police news, on June 5, a Bethel village woman reported a man in a car had followed her home. Police made no contact with the vehicle. On June 11, police responded to a report that one of four juveniles in a white car on the Sunday River Road had pointed a sawed off shotgun at two bicyclists. Police did not locate the vehicle. On June 10, a man reported seeing two vehicles collide, resulting in substantial damage, at the intersection of Route 26 and the Intervale Road. Both vehicles were gone before police arrived. On June 11, a Route 2 businessman reported the theft of several hundred personal CDs, valued at about $3,750. On June 12, police responded to a report of several motorists stopped to look at moose on Route 2. The caller was worried the vehicles were creating a traffic hazard. Police went to the scene, blew the cruiser horn, which sent the animal into the woods and the cars on their way.

Pay-per-bag fees protested

ANDOVER--At a special Town Meeting last week, 20 residents told selectmen that they don't want to pay a fee for every bag of garbage they bring in, but said they did want the town to supply: clear plastic bags, stricter policing of the dump and more education on recycling. The town has been ordered to close its dump on July 1, but the exact method for the closing has not been approved by the state Department of Environmental Protection. Once the dump is closed recycling will become mandatory. Selectman Kathy Williams said if recycling does not increase once the dump closes, that selectmen will consider a pay-per-bag policy.

Number of Maine farms dropping

WASHINGTON, D.C.--Results of the 1992 Census of Agriculture show that Maine had 5,776 farms in 1992 compared to 6,269 farms in 1987. Maine had 1,258,297 acres of land in farms in 1992, and the federal Commerce Department's Census Bureau reports that 44 percent of all farms sold $10,000 or more in agricultural products. One of the major agricultural products in Maine was Irish potatoes, with 87,650 acres harvested in 1992 compared to 83,261 acres in 1987. In 1992, 25 million hundredweights of the potatoes were harvested compared to 22 million hundredweights in 1987. Other census findings were: the state's operators paid $19 million for livestock and poultry, and $71 million for feed for livestock and poultry. Operators paid $19 million for commercial fertilizers and $416 million for agricultural chemicals.

AHHS plans open house

OXFORD--The Board of Directors and staff at Androscoggin Home Health Services will hold an Open House on Thursday, June 16, from 3 to 5 p.m., at the agency's new facility in Oxford. The public is invited to attend. Located on Pottle Road, the new building serves as base for the agency's 50-plus employees in the Oxford area. These employees include: registered nurses, home health aides, social workers, therapists and support staff, who work together in making home visits to more than 350 people in southern and western Oxford County. AHHS relocated to the new building last December after being housed on Winter Street in Norway for more than 10 years. The agency spent a great deal of time in its search for a new site and finally settled on the Pottle Road location for a number of reasons, according to an agency press release.

Sunday River tries new approach

NEWRY--Sunday River Ski Resort will ask the Newry Planning Board for a letter stating that the resort has permission to build a proposed Jordan Bowl access road. The resort had asked for a waiver of the site plan review process, because the town and the state have both already granted shoreland zoning permits for the proposed road. The road would travel from the end of the Monkey Brook Road to new development in the Jordan Bowl in Riley Township. "Sunday River wrote a letter to the Planning Board asking that the board clarify its position relative to the Jordan Bowl access road," said Burt Mills, resort vice president of mountain operations. "It's kind of a formality. We have a shoreland zoning permit and state Department of Environmental Protection permission to build the road. We went through the shoreland zoning process, but not the site plan review process. When we came back to talk about the secondary access road, we were told that Jordan Bowl should have fallen under the site plan review. We want a letter stating that we don't need the review." The planning board will consider the issue Wednesday, June 15 at 7 p.m. at the town office.

Carrabasset blowing "snowfluent"

CARRABASSET VALLEY--Approximately 6 million gallons of treated wastewater from the residences and businesses of Sugarloaf/USA was used this past winter for making snow -- but not for snow to be used on ski trails. According to the June issue of the Journal of the Maine Waste Water Control Association, in February the Carrabasset Valley Sanitary District became the first waste district in the country to use a Canadian process for making snow out of treated effluent. The wastewater was essentially stockpiled in the form of snow for eventual melting and disposal over the spring and early summer -- when demand on the system is much lower. The "Snowfluent" process was developed by Delta Engineering of Ottawa, Ontario. It is projected that the process could double the capacity of the current CVSD system. This year's trial with "Snowfluent" at CVSD was under an experimental permit from the Maine Department of Environmental Protection. Construction of a permanent system is proposed for this summer.

Sunday River to Sea begins Friday

NEWRY--The tenth annual Trek Across Maine, Sunday River to the Sea starts Friday morning, with 1,175 riders taking off on a three-day trek from Sunday River Ski Resort to the Samoset Resort in Rockland. Over the past nine years, 3,500 cyclists have raised over $1.4 million for the American Lung Association of Maine.

Uncle Sam, King George sought

BETHEL--"Uncle Sam Presents" will be part of Bethel's Fourth of July weekend celebration. The show will take place on Saturday, July 2, from 8 to 8:45 p.m. on the common, just prior to the fireworks. The show will be a taped musical production with live actors, telling a children's tale of how America was created from 13 English Colonies. For a finale the public will be asked to sing a long two patriotic songs -- timed to end as the fireworks begin. Cast members are needed for the show, with several parts to be filled. Costume and props are also needed. Telstar high and middle school student and anyone else interested in a part are urged to apply. Call Don Bennett at 824-2094 or Robin Zinchuk at 824-2282.

Births

Tanya Smith and Timothy Turner of Norway are pleased to announce the arrival of a baby girl, McKenzie Jane Turner, born on May 31, 1994, at Stephens Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 lbs, 14 ozs.

Maternal grandparents are James and Jane Haskell of South Paris.

Paternal grandparents are Kenneth Arnold and Rosemary Turner of Oxford.

From the Bethel Area
Health Center

Lead poisoning is an illness caused by too much lead in the body. One way for lead to get into the body is through drinking water.

Lead can get into your drinking water from the plumbing and fixtures in your house.

Your house may have high levels of lead if: 1) Your home was built before 1930 and was constructed with lead pipes; 2) Your home is less than five years old and has copper pipes welded together with lead; 3) A water softener is used in your home; or 4) Water sits in your pipes for hours before use, and the lead solder or pipes contain large amounts of lead.

To best protect you and your family from lead poisoning, follow these steps:

1. Never drink, cook, or prepare drinks, especially baby formula, from the hot water faucet. Lead levels are likely to be highest in hot water.
2. Run the cold water faucet for one or two minutes before using it for drinking, cooking, or preparing drinks and baby formula. This will help to flush the lead from the faucet.
3. After running the cold water faucet for a few minutes, save a pitcher of water to keep in the refrigerator for drinking, cooking, or preparing drinks and baby formula for the day.

Maine's Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program's education committee recognized the week of June 5-11 as Maine Lead Awareness Week. The general theme of the week was "Get Your Kids Tested." The BAHC protocols call for childhood lead testing by one year and at least by two years old. The test repeated is necessary according to risk.

If you have any questions about lead poisoning, contact the Bethel Area Health Center at 824-2193, and if you would like to have your water tested for lead, contact the Health and Environmental Testing Laboratory at 287-2727.
